▪ What skin types are treatable?

Due to Viora's advanced SVC™ technology, all skin types can be treated, throughout the year.

▪ Which areas can be treated?

With the ability to target different depths in the skin, Viora's treatments can address every facial and body part, including areas traditionally difficult to treat, such as hands, décolleté, and bony areas like the forehead.

▪ Do treatments hurt?

No, pain is minimal. Some patients might feel a slight stinging or warm sensation, depending on the treatment performed.

▪ How soon can I resume normal activities?

Viora's SVC™ technology lets you pick up with your daily routine, almost immediately following your fractional RF treatments.

▪ When will I see results?

Results can be visible from the first treatment, although each person is different.

▪ How many treatment sessions will I need?

Typically a three-six session treatment course is sufficient to achieve long-lasting results, depending upon the actual application needed, and each patient. Please consult with your practitioner to better understand your individual needs.

▪ How long do the results last?

One maintenance session is generally recommended every 6-12 months, or as required. Your practitioner can advise the best interval time, for your specific needs.

* Number of treatment sessions required, and final results, may vary per patient

SVC™ - Beyond Fractional Treatments

Viora's revolutionary SVC™ technology, stands for innovative developments in the Switching, Vacuum and Cooling mechanisms in our minimally-invasive fractional RF treatments. SVC™ ensures that Viora's procedures are more comfortable and less painful sessions, as well as guaranteeing that the results are more effective. By delivering RF energy via micro pinpoints beneath the skin's surface, focal heat points are created at the source of symptoms. The healing process of these controlled thermal points leads to the regeneration of new collagen and skin cells. The result? Revitalized, fresher looking skin.

SVC™ also gives your practitioner unprecedented control in their treatment so each procedure is personalized per patient, per treatment area, and per specific symptom and need. No matter what your skin type is, and no matter what part of your body you're interested in treating, Viora is here for you.

If your practitioner is using Viora's technology, you can be assured you're receiving the best possible treatment care!

"I don't have acne anymore but the scars were a constant reminder of that painful time. After having Viora treatments I can stop focusing on the past and start enjoying my future."
James

"As I've gotten older, I could see a difference in my skin and I didn't like it. It was as if my outer skin was aging faster than I actually was! I had a few skin rejuvenation treatments and now look even younger than I feel!"
Carla

"My doctor said that my years smoking did a number on my skin. I'm glad that I was able to get Viora's treatments to help repair the damage that I caused."
Bella

"It took me awhile to find the right solution since I wanted to avoid a lot of unnecessary pain, but still get good results. Luckily I heard of Viora's SVC™ technology, which helped make a difference in how I looked, without the pain."
